

An anaesthesiologist mainly does cardiothoracic anaesthesia work but is still involved in non-cardiac anaesthesia work as well. Main interests in applying medical technologies to daily clinical practice, particularly advanced hemodynamic monitoring and viscoelastic testing for cardiac and non-cardiac surgeries. Venture deep into viscoelastic test-guided bleeding management, including short attachment at Essen University Hospital, Germany.